

JEFF O'NEILL

Former Maple Leaf Jeff O'Neill has joined the Road Hockey To Conquer Cancer team!

The King City native was drafted fifth overall by the Hartford Whalers after a sensational junior career with Guelph. Jeff joined the Whalers, who evolved into the Carolina Hurricanes, in 1995, and played a prominent role with the franchise, still holding many of their scoring records. In 2002, Jeff and the Hurricanes went to the Stanley Cup final against the Detroit Red Wings, and the next season, he was selected to participate in the NHL All-Star Game. Traded to the Toronto Maple Leafs in July 2005, O'Neill enjoyed three productive years in his hometown before retiring at the end of the 2007-08 season.
